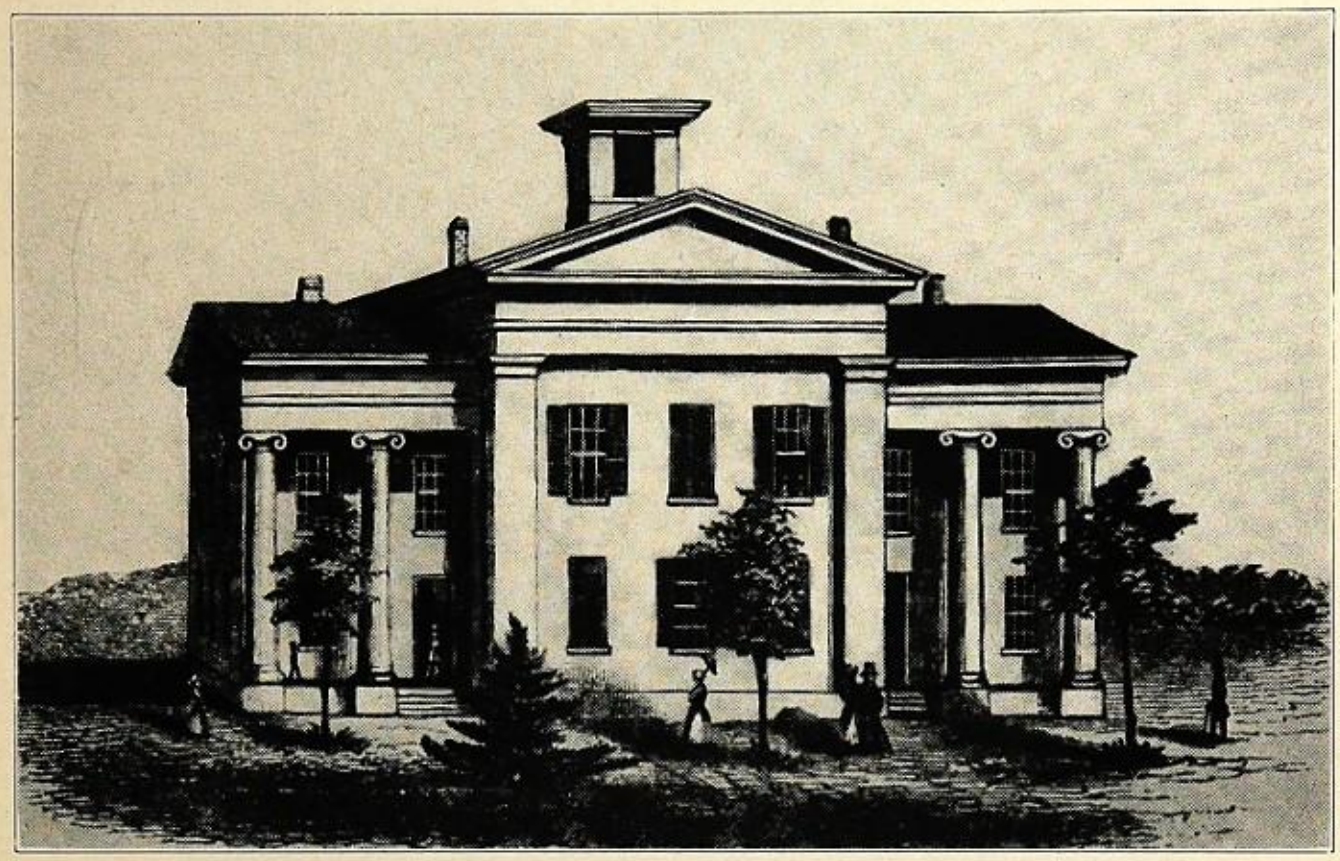
LEWIS ACADEMY CENTENNIAL

1848 - 1948



SALLY LEWIS ACADEMY

It might not be out of place just here to say a few words about the founding of Lewis Academy. Miss Sally Lewis, generous and beloved by all who knew her, was a progressive woman who looked ahead to the needs of a younger generation. In 1828 she bequeathed her estate, both real and personal, to trustees — "the income to be used for a school of higher order within the limits of the First District of the town of Southington forever; Latin, Greek, mathematics, geography, and other branches higher than are taught in the common school to be taught." When Miss Lewis died in 1840, her estate amounted to $3,579.62. Through her influence her cousin, Addin Lewis, willed the sum of $15,000 to Lewis Academy. The Addin Lewis Fund became available in 1846. The brick building known as Lewis Academy was first occupied in 1848, with the late H. D. Smith as principal. Mr. Smith, who was beloved and respected by all his pupils conducted a most prosperous school.

Mr. Lawrence D'Angelo

DEDICATION

Now that we have reached our goal, we pause to consider the one who has been our source of help and guidance in our stay at Lewis.

This, Mr. D'Angelo, is you, our class advisor. You have been more than a teacher; you have been our friend. Through your example of perfection in work accomplished, in ever-smiling appreciation and sympathy, in personal integrity and courage, and genuine interest in the welfare of our class, you have inspired us to reach our goal of graduation.

It is with deepest appreciation that we, the class of '48, dedicate our yearbook to you.

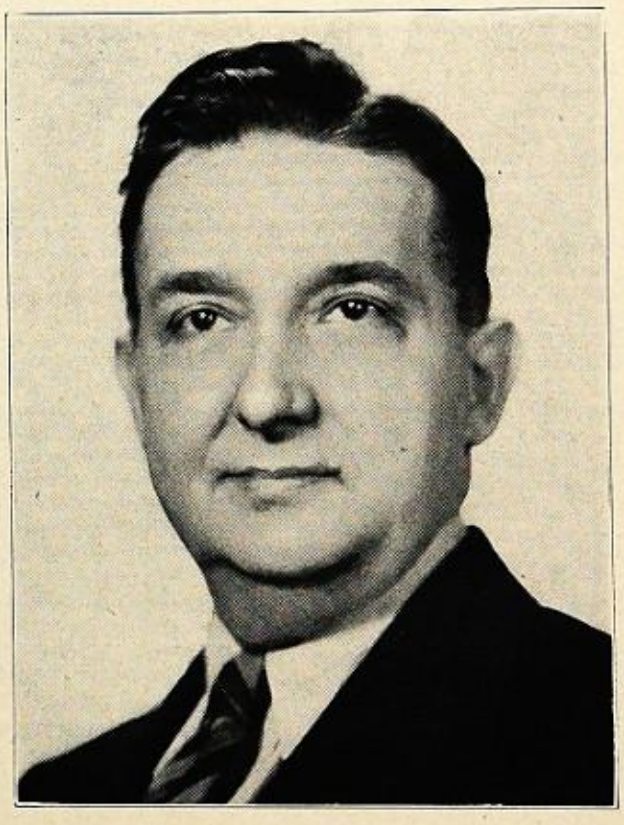
To you, Miss Fagan, our class advisor in our early years, we say thanks for our start, for you are one of those people who leave a remembrance of inspiration and incentive.

To you, Mr. Joyal, we can only say thanks for your untiring efforts on the Chronicle, our class yearbook. We of the Staff realize the time, work and patience that this required.



Mr. Raymond Joyal

IN MEMORIAM

We, the class of 1948 would like to dedicate this page of our class yearbook to our departed classmates, Marie Ingresselli and Leon Babich. Although they are gone, they will always be remembered by us, their classmates.

ENVOY

Go, songs, for ended is our brief, sweet play;
Go, children of swift joy and tardy sorrow;
And some are sung, and that was yesterday,
And some unsung, and that may be tomorrow.

Go forth; and if it be o'er stony way,
Old joy can lend what newer grief must borrow;
And it was sweet, and that was yesterday,
And sweet is sweet, though purchased with sorrow.

Go, songs, and come not back from your far way;
And if men ask you why ye smile and sorrow,
Tell them ye grieve, for your hearts know Today,
Tell them ye smile, for your eyes know Tomorrow.

Class Poem

We've climbed the hill together; now
Before we say good-bye
Let us look back along the road
We've come at Lewis High.

Each morning that we walked "The Hill"
Meant one step up along
The pathway, which four happy years
Have paved with fun, and song,
And work, and bright new friendships
To keep our memories strong.

When e'er the way seemed steep or rough,
A teacher's willing mind
And friendly hand were there to guide
Our steps, and help us find
More than books taught; they filled a role
Of leaders and friends combined.

There is no stone, but which, upturned,
Some precious memory guards:
A game, a prom, a hotdog sale,
A gabfest in the yard,
Some favorite seat, a well earned A —
These things make parting hard.

Our world has been a joyous one
Within these staunch old walls.
It holds a place in every heart,
As surely as these halls
Have known our feet; but we have grown
And now the future calls.

Though we know not where paths may lead,
How high the slopes which lie
Ahead, Classmates of Forty-Eight,
We've won our wings — now fly!

NANCY LEWIS

Class History

In the fall of 1944, the Lewis State House opened its four-year season with quite a "bang." Just as soon as everyone arrived, they were ready to begin work. Holding a new position such as this was all very strange to us, and therefore we had to ask many questions about various things. We finally found our way to the Assembly Room where the President and his helpers would be chosen for the first term. After we settled down and were quite comfortable, we went through the voting procedure. The following people were chosen as officers: James D'Angelo was elected president. Next was vice president and Donald Bidwell was elected for the office. The secretary was Marjorie Miller, and last but not least, Arthur Johnson was chosen as treasurer. With the help of our Advisory member Miss Fagan, our first year was quite a success.

We decided that we should start off with something lively for social activities, so we had a Barn Dance followed a few months later by a Sport Dance. Each drew a large crowd which made us all very happy, as well as a little confident.

Finally our first year was up and it was time for us to rest our weary brains so that we could start fresh the next fall.

September found us back eager to start again. Being a little older at the job, we were allowed to go to the second floor assembly room. We elected our officers rapidly and the results were as follows: Roy S. Florian, president; Ray Bussett, vice-president; Shirley Carlson, secretary, and James Fasulo, treasurer. This year Mr. D'Angelo returned from the army and resumed his position that Miss Fagan had filled temporarily. He became our new advisor.

This being our second year, we decided to hold a Sophomore Hop and Sport Dance. Both turned out better than we could have hoped for.

After our last conference had been made in the assembly room, we packed up our belongings and were ready for a long vacation. As we left we wondered what it would be like on the third floor of the Lewis State House in the coming fall.

Well we soon found out, for there we were walking up the three flights of stairs, gazing at the pleasant surroundings and being noticed by the first year group that were wandering about. It seemed good to be able to answer questions instead of asking them all the time.

We entered the third floor assembly room which was a little larger than the others and we elected our officers. Danny Edwards was president, Pauline Pepe was vice-president, Nancy Lewis was secretary, and James Egidio was treasurer. Mr. D'Angelo seemed to enjoy his work the year before as advisory instructor, so he continued with it again.

In November we held the annual Junior Prom. This of course was a big event to everyone. We gave a St. Patrick's Dance and a Senior Farewell Dance both of which drew a large crowd.

Knowing that we would need a long vacation we decided that this was the best time to take it. The reason for this was because we had heard what the coming year would be like and we had to be ready for it.

L. H. S. CHRONICLE

After a wonderful vacation we entered the Lewis State House knowing that it would be our last year there. We were allowed to take the elevator up this time so we entered it. Up and up we went until at last, the moment that we had waited for came. We reach the fourth floor, and with a feeling of excitement and a little importance we reached the beautiful spacious assembly room. Almost automatically we started electing officers. The following were chosen: Rich Hubeny, president; Danny Edwards, vice-president; Alice Barbier, secretary; and Vera Moroz, treasurer. Mr. D'Angelo was again our advisory instructor.

We held many activities during the year. Our first was the Freshman Welcome Dance. Next was the New Year's Eve Dance, which everyone seemed to enjoy quite well. In February we held a Valentine Dance with the election of the King and Queen and their pages. The king was George Simone, and the queen Camille Wagenbrenner.

The annual Senior Play "A Good Egg" was given, and was ably directed by Miss Collins. Walter Knap did a splendid job taking the leading part, and was supported by a capable cast that deserve much credit for their fine performances. The stage directors, sound-effects men and make up artists all did a magnificent job in making the play the success that it was.

Our other events which we are looking forward to will be the Senior Ball, Class Night, and graduation. After our jobs are thoroughly done the time will come for us to receive our parchment of ability from the head speaker.

We have all been very happy in doing our work at the Lewis State House not only because of the fun that we have had with our instructors and colleagues, but because of the knowledge that we have gained in working here. Lewis has placed in us a feeling of prudence and faith. One fact that we are very sure of is that Lewis High will never be forgotten by anyone who ever attends it. In its rooms and halls the echo of our joys will always remain.

Class Presentations

Here are presentations —
Please take 'em as they're sent,
With a friendly grin and a grain of salt —
Toward none was malice meant.

GIRLS

ANNE ABATA
Since nursing is your chosen career,
This thermometer will keep all temperatures clear.

MARY ALDI
Because on the piano you like to play,
This sheet music we give you to practice each day.

VIRGINIA BAER
This piece of material we will to thee,
Because a seamstress you'll always be.

ALICE BARBIER
Because your skill lies in sewing,
This thread and needle will keep you going.

ELIZABETH BROWN
Since at UNESCO you can never be heard,
Here's a loudspeaker so they can hear every word.

CLAIRE BRYANT
Here's a kleenex tissue for you,
To match your voice as soft as dew.

MARIE CARBONE
A jolly laugh you always had,
This laughing gas will keep you glad.

ANNAMAE CARI
Since laughing seems to be the best thing you do,
This feather should really tickle you.

SHIRLEY CARLSON
Because you're always happy and gay,
We give you this permit to drive blues away.

VIOLET CROOKES
A variety of jobs you always had,
This guarantee of a permanent one will make you glad.

MARIE DELLA VECCHIA
These dancing slippers we give to you,
Because of the tap dancing you will do.

Since lipstick you always seem to need,
This five year supply is guaranteed.

PHILOMENA PASQUALE
Since the theatergoers you supply with candy,
This bag of kisses will come in handy.

PAULINE PEPE
Here's a lock to put on the door,
So no one can get in the back of the store.

JOSEPHINE POMPOSI
Because your skin is so nice and fair,
We give you this soap so it will always have care.

SOPHIE RAMONDETTA
Since you'll soon be a teacher of grammar,
We'll leave to you this big sledge hammer.

BEVERLY RICH
To Bev. we leave this big sea chart,
Because you'll always be a Mariner at heart.

MARY RIZZO
To Mary we leave this big bag of tricks,
So you may always be able to get out of a fix.

EVELYN SCHUERER
If in taking dictation your pen should run dry,
This pencil will help you to get by.

ELEANOR SCHUSTER
To you we leave this fine throat spray,
So laryngitis might never again come your way.

JEAN SHEPPARD
We'll leave you this bottle of glue,
So Jimmy will always stick to you.

This plaque of bronze we will to you,
For the faithful work on ads you do.

FRANCIS COPPOLA
A new delivery truck is all you need,
To deliver groceries with lots of speed.

JAMES D'ANGELO
To you we give this ball of twine,
So you will always have a line.

RICHARD DEEBLE
To you we would like to present a plane,
Fly it with care or you'll need a cane.

DANNY EDWARDS
Here's a golden basketball,
For the star of our team, and a friend to all.

JAMES EGIDIO
Because photography is your pride,
This dark room will aid you on the side.

L. H. S. CHRONICLE

JAMES FASULO
Although cleats may offer more glamour,
These rubber soled shoes will lessen the clamor.

TEDDY FOLEY
Because clothes you wear so well,
This tie we give you so you'll always look swell.

HARRY GALLAGHER
To you chemistry seems to be an open door,
So we give you this bottle of H_2SO_4.

JACK HEUSEL
Because you hear and remember a lot,
We give you this notebook in which you can jot.

RIT HUBENY
This contract for the New High School's plumbing,
Will keep you busy in the years that are coming.

ART JOHNSON
Because so free from care you drive,
Here's a guarantee to keep you alive.

TED JURGLEWICZ
Because you have to walk so far
To deliver your papers; here's a new car.

WALT KNAP
We found in the Senior play your acting ability fine,
So we give you a contract for the following nine.

KLEMENT KRYSTOFOLSKI
Because carrying boxes can drive one insane,
This pushcart will help lessen the strain.

RONALD MACKENZIE
This white wig we send your way,
So you'll forever look distinguished as you did in the play.

ROBERT NYREN
We give to you this Vigoro,
For the healthy plants you'll grow.

CHARLES OBEREMPT
So well at English you seem to do,
This pocket dictionary we give to you.

CHET O'HALA
Since at Taylor's you always seem to be busy,
We leave you this list of prices so you won't get dizzy.

RAY PAPINEAU
This big new car we will to you,
With a speed capacity of 102.

ROBERT QUINLAN
We leave to you this excused pass,
So you will always be able to get in class.

NICK ROMANO
Because of your career as a football star,
We leave you this record of your work so far.

JOSEPH SLODZINSKI
We leave to you this Baseball contract,
So that the Brooklyn Dodgers will always be intact.

GEORGE SIMONE
We leave the job of organizing a chain of super-duper markets to you,
That will be owned exclusively by two.

WILLIAM SNOW
The games so often you go to see,
This pass will get you in for free.

WILLIAM STAKEY
We leave to you this burglar alarm,
So you'll be protected down on the farm.

VINCENT WHITTLESEY
Because to town it's such a hike,
We leave to you this brand new bike.

GEORGE WOOD
We leave this set of encyclopedias to you,
For proof that your arguments are always true.

Class Prophecy

We sat before the Crystal,
With eyes aglow,
Fond mem'ries we are picturing
Of many years ago.

Amid the visions dancing
In gleaming scenes portrayed,
The future of our classmates
This magic glass displayed.

In the land of beauty, here enhanced,
There shone forth each name,
And, as we glanced down Life's
Long Corridor of Time, we see

Our thoughts of future times,
And now they pass before us,
In prophetic, clear review,
The deeds of all our classmates,
Of You, and You, and You.

For the golden veil was lifted,
Slowly, as we gazed,
And there loomed in that far vista,
Bright visions, shining and emblazed,

Gliding slowly o'er the golden Floor of Thought,
Sweet dreams of that far future,
In fancy, they were wrought.
The many visions grew and fled,

Shadows danced to and fro,
And as we gazed in awe,
By memory led,
This is what we saw.

L. H. S. CHRONICLE

The Hartford Hospital looms up before us, and there, in a office on the first floor we see Anna Abata as Director of Nurses.

Then Mary Aldi appears. She has opened the Southington School of Music and has been successful in her career.

Two more figures pass before our view and as they draw closer we recognize them to be Alice Barbier and Virginia Baer. These two girls have opened a dressmaker's shop in New York City. Their specialty is making old clothes over so they have a new look.

Now we see Marie Carbone. She has accepted a position as secretary to the Selectman of Southington.

In our visions we see that Madeline Monroe and Claire Bryant have opened a Lonely Hearts' Club. Their motto is: "You Describe 'Em And We'll Get 'Em."

Also in our visions we see Betsy Brown touring the U. S. lecturing on UNESCO.

Marie Della Vecchia and Josephine Pomposi appear in a new role. They are selling insurance policies for a Mr. D'Angelo. It seems that their employer is a teacher and couldn't find time to take care of his business so he has turned it over to them.

The small town of Cheshire is seen in the distance. We see a small cottage where Shirley Carlson has chosen to settle down and spend the rest of her life.

A large building rises before us. It is the Capitol in Washington. Inside we see Louise Walonoski, a court reporter, taking dictation in the Senate.

We now visit New York where we find Mary Klocko and Jean Wrinn, as models for one of the large stores located in that city.

We next see Virginia Lofgren as the school nurse in Southington. Virginia is a graduate of the Hartford Hospital.

As we gaze into the crystal we notice a sign which reads: "All Girl Chorus Presents Spring Concert." The concert would be well worth attending for among the vocalists are Camille Wagenbrenner and Rita Gioia who have just returned from a tour of Europe where they took part in the operetta "Pinafore."

Sophie Ramondetta is seen as an English teacher at the new high school in Southington.

Philamena Pasquale has become the manager of the Colonial Theater. She is the first woman to hold this position.

Mary Rizzo has moved to New York where she is employed as a bookkeeper in one of the department stores.

Violet Crookes appears as a writer on a newspaper. She writes a column entitled "Advice to the Lovelorn."

As the mist clears, we see Annamae Cari taking dictation from the president of one of Southington's large factories.

Matilda Giagios is celebrating the second anniversary of the opening of "Tillies Candy Shoppe."

A daughter Annette, has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Phil D'Augostino at the Bradley Memorial Hospital. Mrs. D'Augostino is the former Annette Hubeny.

L. H. S. CHRONICLE

We see Marie Gugliotti taking her post behind the wheel of a Connecticut Company bus. She is the first woman driver of this company.

Lucille La Porte and Florence Tully are giving dancing lessons at their studio on Main Street.

Nancy Lewis is an outstanding figure in social work throughout New England.

In the crystal, Pauline Pepe appears to be running a bakery of her own in New York. The name of her establishment is "Madame Pauline's Pastry Shoppe."

Shirley Messmer has taken over the postition of advisor to the Southington Student Council of Churches.

Lena Marotto is a famous designer of teen-ager clothes. She is noted for her originality.

Marie Monte has gone to Hollywood to become a stand-in for Maria Montez. She was chosen for this position because their names are so familiar.

Janice and Priscilla Nyren are in New York working as models. Priscilla is a Powers Model, and Janice is employed by the Halo Shampoo Company for advertisements of beautiful hair.

We see in the crystal that Beverly Rich has taken Miss Shorey's place as head of the Mariners.

Evelyn Schuerer appears before us as Assistant Manager of the Yankee Maid. She was formerly employed there and has returned with a large raise in pay.

Eleanor Schuster is happily married and is teaching all her children the art of beautiful embroidery.

We see Jean Sheppard as receptionist at "Egidio's Photography Studio."

Jean Stasilowicz is superintendent of the chain of Grant's Stores all over the country.

The mist clears and we see Marilyn Terry at Oxley's Drugstore as Junior Pharmacist. She was graduated from the Connecticut College of Pharmacy.

The Misses Doris Nardi, Vera Moroz, and Marge Miller, along with Ray Bussett, George Wood, and Charles Oberempt have returned to their respective homes after a stay at The Hartford Retreat. They were admitted ten years ago after nervous breakdowns suffered after working on the Chronicle.

Vera Moroz has finally entered New Britain State Teachers College and will be a member of the Class of 1962. She has majored in Psychology.

George Wood is deep sea diving in the New Britain Reservoir. He has heard that there are pearls at the bottom and he is looking for them.

Doris Nardi and Marge Miller will arrive tomorrow at Miami Beach, Florida to take up their positions as life guards. Doctors have recommended fresh air and sunshine for the two eye-catching girls.

Ray Bussett is at home now, but his vacation will be terminated when he returns to the Hartford Retreat. His ailment is still not cured as he is still trying to sell ads for the Chronicle to his friends and cell mates.

Charles Oberempt has resumed his job at the Southington Bank and Trust after his stay at the Retreat. He feels at home, because he is still separated from people by bars and small windows.

L. H. S. CHRONICLE

Jack Heusel is seen visiting his family in Southington. He has moved to Hollywood, California where he has taken over the position as a writer which was once held by Hedda Hopper.

Harry Gallagher and Vincent Whittelsey have become scientists, and we see them on the shores of the Dead Sea, trying to discover "how the salt evaporated from the water."

We see Julian Albrecht riding around in a new station wagon. The car is guaranteed not to break down or wear out.

Dick Badgley appears to be quite a success. He is a writer for the Bob Hope radio show.

Robert Binkowski has become the Assistant Manager of the First National store in New Haven.

Donald Burrington is seen at a distance planting potatoes on his farm in Maine.

Francis Coppola is delivering groceries for his many customers who trade at his Super Market.

A shoe store looms up before us and inside we see James D'Angelo fitting shoes on a customer.

Danny Edwards has been named president of the Bachelor's Club of America. He has been a member of this organization for many years and is deserving of this office.

The future shows that James Egidio has opened a Photography Shop and is advertising many special offers.

The fog is brushed aside revealing James Fasulo working hard in his position as principal of the new (?) high school.

Teddy Foley has been named Chief of State Police. He was recently widely publicized in his act of bravery in recapturing two residents of the Norwich State Mental Hospital.

We see "Crazy legs" Hubeny, our football star, as a physical education teacher at one of the leading colleges. He is teaching the boys the art of running as fast as he did.

The mist clears and there is Art Johnson taking the local high school kids out for a hayride. (No peeking, "Jug," you were young once too.)

Teddy Jurglewicz is seen as editor-in-chief of The New Haven Register. All the delivery boys are as faithful as he was when he was in high school.

Walter Knap has just been elected captain of the All American Basketball team.

Klement Krystofolski is seen moving his belongings from the First National to the A&P. He has been offered a better position there.

We see Ronald MacKenzie as a Senator from Connecticut. He is still arguing for what he believes in.

Bob Nyren is giving a course on body building and how to be tall and like it.

Chester O'Hala appears to be playing the horn in MacNamara's Band.

We find Ray Papineau as a script writer for the Amos and Andy program. Since he has taken this job there are a million more listeners.

Into the crystal we gaze and there is a stage where Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs is being presented. Bob Quinlan has the part of "Sleepy."

We see Nick as Superintendent of Highways of America.

The mist clears and we see Walter Shurack as a great opera star. For his small size his voice is amazing.

George Simone is one of America's No. 1 pilots. He is known as the "Ace" of America.

"Slugger" Slodzinski is taking Joe Di Maggio's place as the Yankee's outstanding star.

Bill Snow has opened a new Drugstore in town. It is very popular with the high school kids because of the specialty of super-duper sundaes he offers.

Bill Stakey now owns a cattle ranch out West and runs a dude ranch on the side. All the pretty girls say it is the ideal place to spend a vacation.

The visions now begin to fade,
No longer dancing figures made,
As the magic crystal shades,
The golden veil is lowered,

Memories again are stored,
Far off in the vesta gray.
As today again holds sway.
After-Thought:

These scenes may never be thus,
'Tis only with fun we wrote
Prophetic visions tell us,
None will our thoughts misquote.
